DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bentley et al.

There is disclosed in Bentley a brewing cartridge, comprising: a compartment 21; a plurality of inlet apertures 28 around a periphery of the cartridge in an outer member 27; a plurality of outlet apertures 30 centrally located on the cartridge in an inner member 31, 32, 33; and a discharge spout 37.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fischer.

There is disclosed in Fischer a brewing cartridge 1, 2 having a compartment for containing a beverage ingredient 30, a plurality of inlet apertures 9, a plurality of centrally located outlet apertures.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1761

Claims 5-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bentley et al.

In regards to the number of inlet and outlet apertures, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to construct the cartridge with the claimed number of apertures, since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable (number of apertures determine coffee strength) involves only routine skill in the art.

In regards to the type of beverage ingredient within the cartridge and its viscosity, such is not a structural limitation and is therefor not given any patentable weight.
